Savannah Technical College Awards Ten Faculty Staff Scholarships

SAVANNAH – Ten outstanding students were selected to receive the 2006 Faculty Staff Scholarship, funded through gifts from college employees. “Our faculty and staff care deeply about the success of our students,” said Vice President for Student Success Verlene Lampley who introduced the winners at the college’s fall commencement exercises Tuesday.

Receiving scholarship support are:

Lionel Frazier, Early Childhood Care & Education major
Michelle Futch, Surgical Technology major
Benjamin Mourad, Criminal Justice major
Gwendolyn Sanders, Culinary Arts major
Alicia Simmons, Early Childhood Care & Education major
Lucille Bangs, Administrative Office Technology major
Jacqueline Campbell, Accounting major
Koto Okada, Marketing Management major
Starna Overman, Administrative Office Technology major
Johnny Scott, Culinary Arts major

Each student will receive $200 per quarter for one year. Students must have completed at least 30 hours at the college, be currently enrolled and have a cumulative grade point average of 2.7 or higher on a 4.0 scale.

This was the second year that the Faculty Staff Scholarship was awarded. “Having the faculty and staff support fundraising underscores their belief in the mission of the college,” says Melinda Laager, executive director of the Savannah Technical College Foundation. “That’s a compelling factor when we ask others for support.”
