Sex Assault Policy

The Savannah Technical College is deeply concerned about any incident of sexual assault. Sexual Assault is a criminal act that causes enormous pain, both to the individuals directly involved and to the community. It is punishable by civil and criminal legal action. It is also a serious violation of the Student Code of Conduct standards of Savannah Technical College and it will not be tolerated within our college community. Anyone can be a victim of sexual assault whether woman, man or child. A perpetrator can be anyone, as well as a stranger, someone you have known for a long time, or someone you have just met. Statistics indicate that one in four women will be raped during her lifetime, and that rape is often perpetrated by an acquaintance.

Savannah Technical College must be fully transparent and forthright about the nature of criminal incidents, including sexual assault. To that end, the college has established a sexual assault policy, designated to educate the campus community about:

1. The definitions of sexual assault,
2. The rights of the victim and the accused,
3. Procedures for filing and resolving complaints, and
4. Resources available to the victims of sexual assault.

A student who believes she or he has been a victim of sexual assault is encouraged to report it immediately. The Savannah Technical College Police will inform victims of their rights, options for further action, and the broad range of other services available. Reporting a sexual assault to the Savannah Technical College Police does not in itself initiate any investigative, disciplinary, or criminal action, but it does help ensure the future availability of these options. Savannah Technical College students are responsible to be familiar with, and abide by, the standards of conduct set forth in the sexual assault policy. Counseling services will also provide program information and resources, when requested, that promote awareness of rape, acquaintance rape, and other forcible and non-forcible sex offenses.

Definitions

Indecent assault and battery is defined as the intentional, nonconsensual, indecent touching of another. Under Georgia law, the following acts are included in this definition:

- Any intentional, nonconsensual touching of another person’s breasts or genital area; or,
- Intentional, nonconsensual touching of the abdomen, buttocks, or inner thigh with distinctly sexual overtones.

(Additional Considerations about indecent assault and battery)

- Force and violence are NOT necessary elements of this crime.
- Under Georgia law children under the age of 14 are incapable of consenting to the above forms of sexual touching. If the victim is between the age of 14 and 16, the jury will determine whether the victim was capable of consent.
- Under Georgia 16-6-1 Rape
  - (a) A person commits the offense of rape when he has carnal knowledge of:
    - (1) A female forcibly and against her will; or
    - (2) A female who is less than ten years of age.
- Note: Under Georgia Law a child under the age of 16 is not capable of giving consent, in such cases, all of the above acts are considered rape regardless of whether there was force or consent.

Carnal knowledge in rape occurs when there is any penetration of the female sex organ by the male sex organ. The fact that the person allegedly raped is the wife of the defendant shall not be a defense to the charge of rape.

(b) A person convicted of the offense of rape shall be punished by death, by imprisonment for life without parole, by imprisonment for life, or by a split sentence that is a term of imprisonment for not less than 25 years and not exceeding life imprisonment, followed by probation for life. Any person convicted under this code section shall, in addition, be subject to sentencing and punishment provisions of Code Sections 17-10-6.1 and 17-10-7.

Note: Under Georgia Law a child under the age of 16 is not capable of giving consent.

Rights of Victims

The college assists victims of sexual assault. Victims are entitled to file a complaint with the title IX Coordinator and /or Campus Police. The Student Handbook contains the policies and procedures of the campus judicial system, which will be followed should a complaint be filed.

Additional rights include, but are not limited to:

- The right to bring a friend or counselor to any appointments and any judicial procedures;
- The right to choose to file or not to file a formal complaint;
- The right to pursue charges in the criminal or civil courts;
- The right to appeal a decision of the Judicial Board (see Student Handbook);
- The right to a closed hearing;
- The right to change Academic situations;
- The right to request that a hearing or proceeding occur in such a fashion that the complainant and the accused are never in the same room together;
- Complainant's right to know the resolution of the case.

Consent

Determination of consent to any sexual activity is pivotal to the determination of whether a sexual offense has occurred.

Consent is a voluntary, sober, enthusiastic, informed, mutual, honest and verbal agreement. It is an active agreement and cannot be coerced. It cannot be assumed and is never implied, even in a relationship. The absence of “no” does not mean “yes”. Consent is not just about getting a “yes” or “no” answer, it is about communicating and making joint decisions in a manner that respects and honors the needs and desires of both partners. Communicating clearly about sexual encounters eliminates the entitlement that one partner may feel over the other. If a person is not absolutely sure that his/her partner is consenting without coercion he/she should stop.

Procedures

If you are a victim of a sexual assault while on campus you are asked to report the incident to the Title IX Coordinator, Savannah Technical College Police Department, or a local law enforcement agency. You are also encouraged to seek medical care at the local hospital emergency room. Victims of a sexual offense should not bathe, shower, or change clothes before receiving this medical attention for the importance of preserving evidence for the proof of a criminal offense. In addition, you may file a complaint and/or pursue criminal charges. The college will investigate all complaints of sexual assaults and will take appropriate disciplinary action in each instance. It will also provide health care referral, counseling referral, advocacy referral and other support services for students or visitors who are victims of sexual assault.

Making a report to the College

You are encouraged to report to the Savannah Technical College Police or a local law enforcement agency any incident involving a sexual assault. A report is an account or description of a specific incident. You may make a report without filing a complaint. You make a report in person or in writing.

Filing a Complaint with the College

Filing a complaint is different from reporting an incident. A complaint is a request that the college investigate the incident. You may file a complaint with the Savannah Technical College Police Department, or with the Title IX Coordinator. Should you decide to make a complaint you will be asked to assist the police with the investigation and provide them with details of what happened and with the collection of all relevant evidence.

Pursuing Criminal Charges

Every person subjected to a sexual assault maintains the right to file criminal charges with the appropriate local law enforcement agency in addition to making a report and/or filing a complaint with the college. For more information about pursuing criminal charges, contact the Savannah Technical College Police Department. Ultimately, the decision to file a complaint or pursue criminal charges is yours. You have the option of simply reporting the incident without filing a complaint and/or pursuing criminal charges, but you are strongly encouraged to make a report of any incidence of sexual assault.

Sanctions

Possible sanctions for sexual assault include suspension or expulsion from the college.

Counseling Services

If you have been sexually assaulted or are unsure of whether you have been, you need a safe, confidential place to talk about what has occurred. When you are ready, the Savannah Technical Counselor/Special Populations Coordinator provides free counseling to Savannah Tech students by a professional licensed counselor. Counselors are at the college to support you. The Counselor/Special Populations Coordinator offers a place for you to process what has happened in a non-judgmental, supportive environment.

Counseling is confidential and all information shared in counseling will not be shared with anyone else without the student's written consent, except in "life-threatening" situations or by court subpoena.

The role of the advocate is to support and assist the student in making decisions and carrying out all necessary steps in caring for themselves following the occurrence.
