Click on the GALILEO icon on the library’s home page.

To access GALILEO from an off-campus computer, you will need a password to log in. The password will change each semester, so be sure to double check with the library staff for the new password. All passwords are typed in lowercase letters.

Spring 2012 Password: wordy

When searching on GALILEO, ALWAYS click ‘Full Text.’ This will ensure you retrieve more relevant results.
eBooks
To search electronic books, please use the following instructions:*

1. Click on GALILEO below (and enter the semester’s password if you are not at a campus computer).
2. Click on 'Databases A-Z'.
3. Select the 'E' in the alphabet provided.
4. Click 'EBSCOhost' on the list--it is the second from the top.
5. Once you are redirected to the EBSCO page, click on 'eBooks' located in the upper left hand corner.
6. Do your search as normal.

*If you are conducting your research from home, you will have to enter the Savannah Tech GALILEO password before you can access any electronic books.

NEED HELP WITH YOUR RESEARCH?

A research help page is available to you on our website to access important information about: paper formatting, citing sources, assessing websites, plagiarism, paper formatting, and various internet resources.

There is also a ‘Subject Guide,’ which provides suggestions for books and articles in various subjects. This is a good starting point if you are having trouble researching your paper.

Please feel free to ask the library staff any questions you might have!
